Fund description

[Give a brief description of the fund and its composition, e.g. if the fund is sector-specific or region-specific.]

Sustainability information

[If the first option is checked, the fund management company shall also provide information under the following headings. If the second option is checked, the headings "Sustainability aspects taken into account in the management of the fund" and the methods "Positive Screening", "Negative Screening" and "The fund management company influences" will not be possible to fill out. One of these options must be selected.]

- Sustainability aspects are taken into account in the management of the fund.
Fund management company's comments:
- Sustainability aspects are not taken into account in the management of the fund.
Fund management company's comments:

[Fund management company's comments: In this comment the fund management company can provide general information that facilitates an assessment of the fund in respect of sustainability. The comment can, for example, include the following information:

- If the fund is sustainable for reasons other than that sustainability work is carried out in respect of the fund, e.g. if the fund is to be regarded as sustainable on account of its investment strategy (debt instruments issued by the Swedish government is one example).
- For funds, e.g. mixed/balanced funds, where the investment strategy entails an inability to carry out sustainability work for part of the portfolio, this comment should specify the portion of holdings for which sustainability work can be carried out.
- For funds of funds this comment should specify whether the sustainability work refers to the selection of underlying funds or if the fund of funds adopts a look-through approach to its underlying funds and selects funds whose holdings corresponds to the fund of funds' sustainability principles.

Other clarification that the fund management company wishes to make can also be made here.]

Sustainability aspects taken into account in the management of the fund

[Applicable options shall be checked. At least one of the options must be selected.]

- Environmental aspects (e.g. the companies' environmental and climate impact).
Fund management company's comments:
- Social aspects (e.g. human rights, employee rights and equal opportunity).
Fund management company's comments:
- Corporate governance aspects (e.g. shareholders' rights, issues relating to remuneration for senior executives, and anti-corruption work).
Fund management company's comments:

- Other sustainability aspects.
Fund management company's comments:
[Specify any other sustainability aspects taken into account.]

Positive screening

[Applicable options shall be checked. Only one of the two first options can be selected.]

- Sustainability aspects are critical in the manager's choice of companies.
The fund has specific and explicit criteria for positive selection of companies, based on environmental, social and business ethics issues. An analysis of the companies' sustainability work is critical to the selection of the companies in the fund.

[This option refers to funds that have specific and explicit criteria for the selection of companies, based on their proactive work and good results with regard to environmental, social and business ethics issues. The sustainability analysis is crucial to the fund's investments. This option includes both fundamental and quantum-based strategies based on sustainability aspects.

This option also refers to funds that select companies on the basis of a specified sustainability-related theme, such as climate, water, ecotechnology, or social sustainability, and to funds that only invest in projects or operations with quantifiable social or environmental benefits.]

Fund management company's comments:

- The manager of the fund takes sustainability issues into account.
Sustainability issues are taken into account in the context of corporate economic analyses and investment decisions and play a part, but not necessarily a crucial one, in determining which companies are selected for inclusion in the fund.

[This option refers to funds which explicitly and systematically integrate sustainability aspects into their economic analyses and investment decisions. Sustainability aspects are explicitly part of the investment process, are continuously analysed, and affect the fund's investments.]

Fund management company's comments:

Other

- Other method of positive screening used by the fund.
Fund management company's comments:

[In this comment the fund management company can provide general information that facilitates an assessment of the fund in respect of sustainability. The comment can, for example, include the following information:

- If the fund is sustainable for reasons other than that sustainability work is carried out in respect of the fund, e.g. if the fund is to be regarded as sustainable on account of its investment strategy (debt instruments issued by the Swedish government is one example).
- For funds, e.g. mixed/balanced funds, where the investment strategy entails an inability to carry out sustainability work for part of the portfolio, this comment should specify the portion of holdings for which sustainability work can be carried out.
- For funds of funds this comment should specify whether the sustainability work refers to the selection of underlying funds or if the fund of funds adopts a look-through approach to its underlying funds and selects funds whose holdings corresponds to the fund of funds' sustainability principles.

Other clarification that the fund management company wishes to make can also be made here.]

Negative screening

The fund does not invest in companies that are involved in the following products and services. A maximum of 5% of the turnover in the company in which the investment is made may entail operations attributable to the specified product or service.

Fund management company's comments:

International norms

The fund avoids investing in companies involved in violations of international norms and conventions (at least the UN Global Compact and OECD guidelines for multinational companies) in relation to the environment, human rights, labour practices, and business ethics.

[This option refers to funds that apply reactive sustainability analysis and exclude companies because they violate international norms. Select one of the two options below, depending on how comprehensive the exclusions made due to violations of international norms are. Merely a review with regard to norm violations – but where the violations do not result in exclusions – are insufficient grounds for checking either of these options.]

- The fund avoids investing in all companies identified as failing to comply with international norms.

[This option refers to funds that reject companies based on an evaluation conducted by the fund itself or via subcontractors. If the fund also excludes companies suspected of and investigated with regard to breaches, this should be specified in a separate comment.]

Fund management company's comments:

- Companies where the fund detects no willingness to change or where, in the opinion of the fund, the companies will fail to get to grips with the problems within an acceptable timeframe are excluded for investment purposes.

[This option refers to funds that draw up an action plan for questionable companies which are excluded if the specified conditions are not met within a specified period of time.]

Fund management company's comments:

Countries

- For sustainability reasons, the fund does not invest in companies involved in certain countries/interest-bearing securities issued by certain states.

[This option refers to funds that carry out a country-specific sustainability analysis that results in the exclusion of companies involved in certain countries or of interest-bearing securities issued by certain states. Specify which countries are excluded and the reasons for the decision. Please note that this option refers solely to sustainability-related country analysis against explicit sustainability criteria. Geographic restrictions applied for other reasons, such as the fund's investment objective, do not constitute grounds for checking this option.]
